They were "temporary" certificates of the Fourth Liberty Loan, without coupons, and were in the bank's care to be converted for customers into the permanent coupon bonds which are now being issued by the United States treasury.

Insurance Covers Loss.
In their official statement, given to the press yesterday, the bank officials declared the loss was "partly covered by insurance." Officials investigating the robbery later declared the bank has a "blanket policy" with Lloyd's of London covering $500,000 of the loss and that the remainder is protected by the Hartford Accident and Indemnity company.

A. F. Shaw, an employee of Tropic & Harding, lawyers, with offices in the Continental and Commercial National bank, handles the losses for Lloyd's of London in Chicago. He declared last night his company had insurance of only $100,000 on the bonds.

The trust company in its last official report scheduled undivided profits of $1,200,000.

Boy's 'Hidden Life' Bared.
Previous to Thursday noon William Dalton, according to his mother, had been a steady church goer and had spent his evenings at the Y. M. C. A., where he was taking a commercial course. He had no bad habits, she said.

Investigation, however, disclosed that among his acquaintances he was considered a "cool shark." He had a mysterious elderly companion known only as "Cummings," and that on several occasions he had spoken loudly of "handling big money."

William first went to work for the bank in June, 1918. He was then 15 years old. His duties were those of a page carrying messages from one department of the institution to another. At times he was entrusted with the transference of small amounts of money.

In December, 1918, he returned to his studies in the Austin High school. The latter part of 1919 he was re-employed. Three months ago he was advanced to the position of junior clerk, which he held when he disappeared. He was bonded to the bank in the sum of $5,000.

Bonds About to Be Converted.
On Thursday the package of missing bonds was sent from the savings department on the second floor to the third floor for checking.

There were six persons working in the securities cage in the trust department. "One of these was Dalton," said the package of bonds was delivered for counting and checking. It was an hour before lunch time.

No one apparently paid much attention to Dalton and his work. He counted the bonds and left the cage for a moment and returned, according to one of his fellow clerks, with a sheet of brown wrapping paper.

Vanishes at Lunch Time.
In the cage there is a clock, in which the employees leave securities after their work on them is done. In this box Dalton was to have left the bonds. Instead, as a single bell from the clock announced he was to be leaving, he disappeared.

At 2:30 Mr. Hanson, his immediate superior, and remarked:
"It's lunch time. Guess I'll be going."

According to a reconstruction of the affair by the bank officials, Dalton placed the brown paper parcel containing the bonds under one arm, nonchalantly walking out of the cage, down the stairs to the locker room, where he secured his hat and overcoat, and left the building through a back door.

From that moment he has not been heard from by either fellow workers, detectives, or relatives.

At 2:30 Mr. Hanson noticed Dalton's absence. An immediate investigation was begun. From that moment he has not been heard from by either fellow workers, detectives, or relatives.

LEAGUE STALLS, THEN SHUTS OUT AMERICAN NOTE

Double Play—Council to Balfour, to Premier.

BY EUGENE ROSETTI.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
Copyright, 1921, by The Chicago Tribune.
PARIS, Feb. 25.—President Wilson's note on mandates, sent almost from his political tomb, brought to a virtual standstill today the league of nations council conference in Paris.
The committee considering the note labored like the mountain, but failed to produce even a mouse. It then passed the buck to Mr. Balfour, Prime Minister Lloyd George's chief lieutenant, but even Mr. Balfour considered the job too delicate for him, and passed it over to his master in London.
There Premier Bland and the British prime minister will study the American mandate, but they, it seems certain, will delay reply until a new commander directs the American ship of state.

America Wins Support.
Meanwhile America is not without strong supporters at the Paris conference. One asserted today that England and Japan could not "shunt" America out of the Pacific.

Also the mandate note has broken down British resistance to revision of the Sevres treaty. It is reported from London. According to French belief, it was the American note and not the Turkish and Greek statistics which led Great Britain to the French view in the Sevres treaty dealings.

Oil land mandates form the treaty's keystone. If America claims that the mandate territories shall be administered on an international basis if the power holding the mandate possesses no special commercial privilege, then the treaty can be revised to meet this demand. Turkish territories no longer interest Great Britain.

Britain Beats France to Oil.

French diplomats recall the Anglo-French Asia Minor agreement, which provided that both countries equally should share in the Mesopotamian oil fields, but in 1919 Mr. Lloyd George did France out of her share.

"Unhappily, France had no standard oil company," said one French diplomat today, alluding to America's fight for her share of the Asia Minor oil fields.

In the lobbies and offices of the league council today everybody ostensibly was discussing Vilna, disarmament and other council agenda questions, but in the corners there were much whispering concerning the American note.

'PARIS BATTLE' REALISM COST THE U.S. $125,000

New York, Feb. 25.—[United News.]—Hobnails, not highballs, caused that $125,870.92 damage to the Crillon hotel which aroused the house (d such a pitch of suspicion it demanded an accounting from President Wilson.

Henri Dequis, manager of the Crillon, who is in New York, said 200 American soldiers with hobnailed field shoes damaged the hotel at the rate of $625 per soldier.

It was for that, he added, the bill of $125,870.92 was submitted to the American government.

Mr. Lamont said, "I don't give a damn for logic. I am going to include pensions."

"There was not one of us in the room whose heart did not beat with a like feeling," said Mr. Lamont.

"I am going to take this opportunity," he continued, "to say a word as to President Wilson's attitude at the conference. He is accused of having been unwilling to consult his colleagues. I never saw a man more ready and anxious to consult than he."

Germany Able to Pay.

The $45,000,000 which Germany was notified she must pay over a series of forty-two years by the recent settlement at Paris, Mr. Lamont said, if amortized at 8 1/2 per cent and brought back to present value would represent a capital sum of about $13,000,000,000, plus whatever amount Germany has already paid on account.

"Now, even the most moderate of the experts figuring at Paris," he added, "thought that Germany could pay a capital sum of $10,000,000,000 or $15,000,000,000, so that not counting the so-called 'export tax' which is a part of the recent Paris settlement the schedule arrived at does not seem to be unreasonable."

ALLIES WILL PAY WHAT THEY OWE, LAMONT STATES

Sum Demanded of Berlin Not Excessive, He Says.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 25.—All the allies will pay their war debts to America, Thomas W. Lamont, partner in J. P. Morgan & Co. and one of the United States treasury representatives on the American commission to negotiate peace, declared tonight before the Philadelphia Public Ledger forum.

"I note a constant reference to some alleged secret understanding in Paris," the financier said, "between President Wilson and his advisers on one hand and the French and British representatives on the other, to the effect that allied indebtedness to the United States should, in whole or in part, be canceled or forgiven."

"There ain't no such thing. From start to finish of the peace conference President Wilson and his advisers, without exception, opposed vigorously and finally any such suggestion or proposition of cancellation."

"There was no commitment, expressed or inferred, near or remote, moral or otherwise, as to the handling of the allied indebtedness to the United States government."

"Logic! Logic!" Mr. Lamont said the president exclaimed. "I don't give a damn for logic. I am going to include pensions."

"There was not one of us in the room whose heart did not beat with a like feeling," said Mr. Lamont.

"I am going to take this opportunity," he continued, "to say a word as to President Wilson's attitude at the conference. He is accused of having been unwilling to consult his colleagues. I never saw a man more ready and anxious to consult than he."

Mr. Lamont told how Gen. Smuts finally convinced President Wilson that pensions should be included in the reparations bill. Some of the experts, he said, told the president they couldn't find a lawyer in the American delegation who would favor including pensions, and that all logic was against it.

JUDGES REFUSE TO CHANGE RULES IN EVICTION SUITS

But Each Jurist May Use Discretion in Cases.

While the Municipal judges, after a four-hour executive session yesterday afternoon, refused to change the rule governing the trial of forcible detainer cases, it was agreed there was nothing in the rule as it now stands that makes mandatory on the part of a judge to break his neck in order to throw a tenant out of his home simply to satisfy a profit-seeking rent hog.

The decision is a partial victory for the Chicago Tenants' Protective League, though far from what its representatives had asked. Through its president, J. R. Patterson, the league had requested that the rule putting all forcible detainer cases down for immediate hearing be changed and that all such cases should be allowed to take their regular order on the court calendar.

Had they gained this point, it would have meant that a forcible detainer or other case might remain in court a year or fifteen months before trial.

"Out of the Question,"—Olson. "That would simply be out of the question," said Chief Justice Olson.

"We must not forget we are still citizens of the United States and govern ourselves accordingly. The law expressly says that forcible detainer cases are among those that should have an immediate hearing—that is, there should be no unnecessary delay."

Heretofore the Municipal judges who have handled such cases, the large majority of which were brought to get rid of undesirable tenants or tenants who would not pay their rent, always tried the cases on the docket for immediate trial.

Hereafter, however, the judge before whom the case is brought will be the judge as to when it is to be tried. If he feels that he has a rent profiteer before him, he can "use his discretion in setting the case for trial according to the business of the courts and the rights of the litigants," as the rule reads.

The report of the committee, signed by Judges Euge, chairman; Cook, and McKinley, was adopted by a practically unanimous vote, the only vote being cast by Judge Gemmill, Walker, and Swanwick.

No Price List by Zones. Contrary to general expectations, no price list was announced by the Real Estate board for its zone system, recently given out "as a solution of the rent war."

Augustus S. Peabody, acting chairman of the board's anti-rent profiteering committee, said he did not know the report got out that the prices in different districts would be announced Friday.

"It was my understanding they were to be submitted to the Real Estate board by the only news being given for approval," he said. "Just when the prices will be given to the public," he said, "I am not in a position to say."

Want Income Tax Exemption. Exemption from federal income tax of all incomes less than $10,000 derived from mortgages and bonds wholly secured by real estate would create plenty of ammunition for a building boom, in the opinion of the city council.

The aldermen, at yesterday's session, unanimously petitioned congress to adopt House Bill 14062, now pending in the house of representatives, which would provide for such an exemption.

"It is the federal income tax more than any other thing that is causing money for the construction of badly needed homes," said Ald. A. O. Anderson, who introduced the resolution.

Tenants of a six apartment building at 614 Clark street, Evanston, have received notice that their rents, now $10 a month, will be increased to $110 a month May 1. A year ago the apartments were rented for $10 a month. All tenants who were interviewed said they would probably remain, as there were no other apartments to be had in Evanston.

STATE TAX LAWS UNJUST, ANTIQUE, WOMEN ARE TOLD

Forum Told Housing Is Public Utility.

Three hundred women of Illinois clubs attending the open forum at the Congress hotel yesterday heard the Illinois system of taxation declared "unjust, unscientific, miserable, destructive of good government, and antique." The two day forum closed yesterday.

The discussion was led by State Senator Harold Kessinger and Prof. William E. Dodd of the history department of the University of Chicago. Senator Kessinger declared that the tax system of Illinois is clearly inadequate, unjust, and has outlived its usefulness.

Calls Housing a Public Utility. Senator Kessinger demanded that the housing of the citizens be made a public utility, to bring rents under the direction of the state.

"The light a man reads by is a public utility, and so is the gas his wife cooks with," he said. "So, why not the rooms they read and cook in? The street car, the railroad, the warehouse, the water—all are public utilities and under a commission that is supposed to see that the rates charged are not exorbitant. Why not the home?"

Prof. Dodd declared that not only Illinois, but the whole country had been misdirected in regard to taxes. He asserted too many persons are escaping taxes by converting their money into bonds and refusing to put their earnings into homes and real property subject to state taxation. This, he said, discouraged home building and owning and was another reason for the housing situation.

Ex-Judge Cutting Has Remedy. Former Judge Charles S. Cutting outlined some of the defects he finds in our system of taxation. He declared one loophole for the tax dodger is the incorrect return because "if a man makes a correct return of the value of his property, he will be taxed out of proportion to the rest of the citizens of his community."

He advocated a state taxation system similar to the governmental income tax system.

Arguments for and against the proposed Illinois state constitutional feature of the afternoon session of the forum, State Senator Henry A. Dunlap, author of a bill for the organization of a state constitutional convention, spoke for the bill.

His arguments were opposed by Victor A. Olander, secretary-treasurer of the Illinois State Federation of Labor.

Senator Dunlap's primary argument was that automobile thieves and pay roll handouts could be more successfully pursued by the constabulary outside large cities. He denied Mr. Olander's assertion that the state constabulary would be too ready a weapon for political uses.

Mr. Olander also charged the constabulary might be used by capitalists to suppress strikes and other labor disorders.

Senator Dunlap estimated the cost of the organization of the constabulary at a half million dollars. This, he said, would amount to only 6 cents a year for each resident of the state.

HIS FUTURE AIDS' SNAPPY WORK THRILLS HARDING

Quick 'Yes' by Hoover and Wallace Surprises.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

St. Augustine, Fla., Feb. 25.—[Special.]—Two more cabinet positions were "closed" by President Harding's announcements today. These are Herbert C. Hoover for secretary of commerce and Henry C. Wallace for secretary of agriculture. Mr. Harding declines to confirm any more of the reported appointments at this time, but said he would have another one to announce tomorrow.

Mr. Harding does not like the idea of appointing two men from Pittsburgh to his cabinet, A. W. Mellon for secretary of the treasury and J. J. Davis for secretary of labor. He still is casting about for some way out. But the chances are this state will go through and that Davis will be credited on the political calendar as coming from Mooseheart, Ill.

Wallace Beat Him to It. The first attack was against 100 black and tan police in military uniforms, the Irish forces numbered several hundred and charged from both sides of the road, compelling the crown forces to retreat toward Macroom. The fight continued until the black and tan forces were driven back to the town and reprisals were feared. One report says there were twenty civilian and thirty black and tan casualties.

Women Court Martialled. Miss Alice Caswell, vice chairman of the Galway county council, refused to recognize the court martial yesterday which tried her for having in her possession a Dail Eireann document regarding local government. Her counsel, she said, only recognized the Irish republican government.

Dr. Ads English, when court martialled for possessing a document relating to the capture of persons in women's association, objected to all members of the court, saying they were in the pay of the enemy. The sentences of the women will be announced later.

HOSTAGE IS KILLED. DUBLIN, Feb. 25.—[By Associated Press.]—Official reports regarding the fight at Macroom this morning still were lacking tonight. It has been confirmed, however, that the commander of the auxiliary police, Maj. Seaford Grant, was killed. Maj. Grant was 29 years old. It is reported that a Sinn Fein hostage carried on the force most loyal of the auxiliary police also was killed.

REV. J. A. IRWIN SENTENCED. BELFAST, Feb. 25.—The Rev. J. A. Irwin, a Presbyterian minister, who was arrested in January, was today convicted by court martial of having a revolver and ammunition in his possession, and was sentenced to one year in prison.

BRITISH FORCES USE AIRPLANES IN IRISH BATTLE

Major, in Command of British, Slain.

BY JOHN LESTER.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] (Copyright, 1921, by The Chicago Tribune.) DUBLIN, Feb. 25.—Four black and tan were killed and many wounded today near Macroom in the biggest fight since guerrilla warfare was begun in Ireland. The major commanding the crown forces was among those killed. Battle airplanes were used by the British for the first time in Erin. The casualties of the Irish are not known.

The attack took place at Coolavon, on the mountainous part of the road between Macroom and Ballyvourney, and preparations for it were extensive.

Force Retreat of Police. The first attack was against 100 black and tan police in military uniforms, the Irish forces numbered several hundred and charged from both sides of the road, compelling the crown forces to retreat toward Macroom. The fight continued until the black and tan forces were driven back to the town and reprisals were feared. One report says there were twenty civilian and thirty black and tan casualties.

Communication with the Macroom district is difficult this evening, but it is said military forces are concentrating in that town and reprisals are feared. One report says there were twenty civilian and thirty black and tan casualties.

NEW YORK IRISH HECKLE GIBBS AGAIN OVER ERIN

Chaplain of 69th Tries to Quell Uproar.

BY JOHN LESTER.

New York, Feb. 25.—[Special.]—Sir Philip Gibbs withstood the hoots and cat calls of Sinn Fein sympathizers for an hour and a half tonight in Carnegie hall during his lecture on the Irish situation and hurled defiance at hecklers in the gallery.

Sir Philip scarcely raised his voice, rocking silently back and forth on his toes during the uproar, fixing his eyes steadily on those above him, and only picking the periods of silence to go evenly on.

Almost at the start, when abusive cries filled the hall, a slim, tall man climbed on the stage, and, walking to within a few feet of Sir Philip, looked at him, then, advancing, shook hands. The audience was silent for a minute, then most of those present, recognizing the stranger, breaking into wild applause.

"I would like to introduce myself to this audience," he said. "My name is Father Duffy."

The rest was lost in a burst of hand-clapping in welcome of the priest of the fighting Sixty-ninth, the Irish regiment which fought its way so gallantly to the Marne.

"I want to say that Sir Philip Gibbs has done more to restore truth to the world than any other man," Father Duffy said. "I want to warn Sir Philip that this presentation of facts will likely produce the conclusion in the minds of this audience, that he is a British propagandist."

Cries of "No, no!" and "You're not the speaker!" arose from persons in the hall, who in a moment had turned on the chaplain.

It was a symptom of the divided feeling of the audience.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY

"Therefore, if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature; old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new."—II. Cor., 5.

The facts of human experience cannot be denied. The belief in historical facts does not change the heart or give spiritual life. The presence of the spirit of Christ alone transforms men and gives spiritual life. Changed life of men from sin to righteousness is the greatest proof of the reality of Christianity.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY

"Therefore, if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature; old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new."—II. Cor., 5.

The facts of human experience cannot be denied. The belief in historical facts does not change the heart or give spiritual life. The presence of the spirit of Christ alone transforms men and gives spiritual life. Changed life of men from sin to righteousness is the greatest proof of the reality of Christianity.

STAR ATHLETES SMASH MARKS AT FIRST REGIMENT

STANDING OF TEAMS

Chicago A. A. 28 Western Elec. A. A. 1
Illinois A. A. 24 Logan Square A. A. 1

BY WALTER ECKERSALL

Smashing of all known records in the standing hop, step and jump by James C. Hoskins of the C. A. A. and phenomenal running of Joe Ray of the I. A. C. and Frank Loomis of the C. A. A. who qualified in three events, featured the first batch of events of the annual indoor hand-cap track and field games of the first Regiment, A. A. held last night in the Michigan avenue armory.

PHIL SPINK

The old mark of 100 yds. 2 inches, made by J. Spink of Albany, N. Y., in 1894, in the standing hop, step and jump was broken twice. In one of his preliminary leaps Tom Hoskins of the C. A. A. jumped 20 feet 6 inches. In the jump-off in the final round, Brother James leaped 20 feet 8 inches. According to officials, the jump adhered to all rules and will stand as a record.

Track Record by Spink

Phil Spink, former University of Illinois runner, who competed under Cherry Circle colors, won his heat in the quarter mile from scratch and established a new track record of 51.1 for the distance. The former mark was 52.24 and was made by Binga Diamond, the colored runner of the University of Chicago a few years back.

Loomis Out in Front

Frank Loomis of the C. A. A. gave a great exhibition of all-around ability. He won his heat in the quarter mile by covering the distance pulled up in 51.5 and won his heats in the forty yard low hurdles and forty yard high hurdles. He is expected to make a strong bid for first places in all the events tonight and will be a member of the C. A. A. relay team.

Loren Murchison of the I. A. C.

and Jo Loomis of the C. A. A. who were placed on scratch in the 40 yard dash won their preliminary and semi-final heats and will clash in the final night. It took eight preliminary and five semi-final races to narrow down the field to six men who will face the starter tonight.

C. A. A. in the Lead

As a result of last night's events, the C. A. A. team has a lead of four points over the I. A. C. Protesters were lodged by Coach Darwent of the Cherry Circle team against Murchison, French, and Jaquith of the I. A. C. on the grounds they have not competed unattached for the necessary time to change from one team to another.

In the Wake of the News

EARLIER CHICAGO.
DEAR WALKER: I doubt whether you remember way back when the Grand Pacific had a lunch counter and café on the La Salle street side, and what a delicious place of mince pie we used to get there, not an eighth, but a quarter, about an inch thick, and with a crust that melted in your mouth, and a big piece of cheese on the side. How it appealed to your appetite even after you had eaten an extra thick cut of roast beef. During the meal, if you wished to, you could partake of the various liquors for which the Grand Pacific cater was famous.

Isn't there something ominous to the Cub recruits in Bro. Crutcher's report of their departure? President can't beat them then, you better go back to Casino.

Instead I take my pen in hand, And write another verse.

By Hoover's acceptance of a post in President Elect Harding's cabinet, we may infer that Herbert has decided whether he is a Republican or a Democrat. We would decide the same way under the circumstances.

Do You Remember Way Back When?

We went to the saloon across the alley from the stage door of McKiv-er's for a glass of beer and watched the frogs under a glass plate in the middle of the bar?

RECORD PER CENT OF TOTAL VOTE CAST ON BOND

Analysis of Figures Bares
Amazing Situation.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

The canvass of the vote on the $8,000,000 bond issue was completed yesterday and will be tabulated as soon as possible. Attorney R. E. Blackwood, who supervised the watching of the canvass for the Citizens' association, predicted last night that the canvass figures will not be substantially different from the police returns as tabulated by the city hall.

This adds more interest to the remarkable figures on the bond question. With sixteen precincts missing the city hall shows that the total vote for all aldermanic candidates was 399,806.

Wednesday the city hall said that the aggregate vote for and against the bond issue was 364,130, with 38 precincts missing. That is 98 per cent of the total for aldermen. On Thursday, however, the city hall revised the figures and said that the total vote on the bond was 368,704 with only 14 precincts missing. But that is 96 per cent of the vote cast for all aldermanic candidates.

Record Breaking Vote.
Such a large vote on a bond issue, in comparison with the aggregate vote cast, has not been found in previous local elections.

The largest vote last November on any "little ballot" proposition was on the question of daylight saving. On that 645,139 persons voted. That is 89 per cent of the vote for United States senator, 86 per cent of the vote for state's attorney, and only 82 per cent of the vote for president.

On Nov. 4, 1919, the city submitted to the voters six bond issues totaling $28,600,000. Of these bonds those to improve Western avenue received the highest vote, 231,777. Of this number 44,147 were women. The candidates at that time were for the constitutional convention and for judges for whom women did not vote, but the candidates for judge received 207,792 votes of men alone.

Only 83 Per Cent at Mayoral Election.
On April 1, 1919, Mayor Thompson was re-elected and the votes for all candidates for mayor totaled 690,802. A permanent improvement bond issue at that time received the attention of 551,028 voters—83 per cent of those who voted for mayor. There was also a bond issue of $9,500,000 paid judgments then. On that 472,322 persons voted, which is about 69 per cent of those who voted for mayor.

Nov. 5, 1918, the $60,000,000 good roads bonds were submitted, but only men were permitted to vote. Whether the city should adopt the proposed traction ordinance was not learned by the police, was about to enter a 5 and 10 cent store at State and Monroe streets yesterday when a stranger stepped up. "I'm a detective," he said. "I saw you flirt with this man on the street. Now you beat it!" he added to the escort, who hurried away.

ROUTS ESCORT, ARRESTS GIRL, LANDS IN CELL
Miss Marie Kapella, 4729 Marshallfield avenue, accompanied by a young man whose name was not learned by the police, was about to enter a 5 and 10 cent store at State and Monroe streets yesterday when a stranger stepped up. "I'm a detective," he said. "I saw you flirt with this man on the street. Now you beat it!" he added to the escort, who hurried away.

"Come with me, woman," the man commanded, grabbing Miss Kapella by the arm. He led her toward Dearborn street.

"What are you going to do with me?" she asked.

"I'm going to lock you up," he replied. "I hate to do it, but the lieutenant is following me."

At Dearborn street Miss Kapella became alarmed and summoned Police man B. J. Devine, who took the "detective" to the station, where he gave his name as Frank Braveman.

"I must have taken too many glasses of dago red," he explained.

DEATH PENALTY URGED FOR MAIL TRAIN ROBBERS

A plea for reinvestment of the old postal law making it a capital crime to hold up a mail train with a revolver was made yesterday by government authorities following the second robbery of Chicago and Alton passenger train No. 10 early in the morning.

"Although the raid netted the robbers four letters and $50 they used revolvers and should be made an example of," said Assistant District Attorney Robert A. Milroy. "I believe the death penalty would not be too severe for train robbers who threaten the lives of the government employees."

Rush D. Simmons, chief postal inspector, and Robert A. Mundelle his first assistant, made similar statements. Posses all day combed the river bottoms in the vicinity of Quincy Junction, where four men armed with rifles held up the train. According to stories told by the inspectors, the robbery occurred at 12:15 o'clock shortly after a masked "advance guard" had boarded the train while it was crossing the Mississippi. U. S. Davis, chief clerk on the looted mail car, said: "I knew something was wrong when I noticed the mail car was disconnected from the train. Next I saw the engineer and fireman, with the robbers following. I knew there was little of value on the train. For that reason I immediately opened the door when the robbers knocked. I told them there was nothing doing and handed over my registry book. Then they disappeared."

CHINESE, AT SEA,
PUT MICROSCOPE
ON CHRISTIANITY

Request 1,000 to Explain
Belief in God.

Christianity has been put on trial by a group of Chinese students in the University of Chicago. With the full sanction of the authorities of the institution, the students, in an effort to sound the religious sentiments of the United States, have sent a form letter asking certain questions to 1,000 leading Americans. The questions asked are:

1. What is your idea of God?
 2. Do you believe in God?
 3. Why?
- The letter is signed by twenty-one Chinese students, eighteen of whom are attending the University of Chicago. Attached to the letter is an endorsement signed by four professors, Albion W. Small, dean of the graduate school of arts and literature; Edward Scribner Ames, instructor in philosophy, and E. De Witt Burton, director of the university libraries and head of the department of the New Testament of the University of Chicago, and F. C. Sharp, professor of philosophy at the University of Wisconsin.

What They Want to Know. King Sin Wang, a student at the university, to whom questionnaires are to be returned, explained yesterday the reasons why the Chinese students were sending out the letter.

"We are attempting to learn the ideas of the leading men of this country on Christianity in order that we may form our own opinions. There are three things we are trying to learn."

"What is it in which people believe?"

"2. Is the object of their belief real or not?"

"Has such a belief any value if socially or ethically considered?"

Get 125 Replies.

"Two weeks ago we mailed out the letters to men all over the country, and to date have received 125 replies. I am sorry, but I can't reveal the nature of the replies or the persons to whom the letters were sent."

"In a way it is putting Christianity on trial." Prof. Burton said, "but the purpose of the students is sincere. They want to get the actual opinion of the leading men in America in order that they may form their own opinions. Many of the students are at sea when it comes to religion and they want something on which to base their opinions. Brought up Confucianists, some have turned Christians and some are agnostics. Others don't know what they are and that is what they are trying to find out."

REPORT DOBYNS
WILL BE GIVEN
CLYNE'S PLACE

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25.—[Special.] Fletcher Dobyns will be the new United States district attorney in Chicago under the Harding administration, according to a report in circulation at the department of justice today. It was said District Attorney Clyne has signed his intention of resigning shortly after March 4, although his term does not expire for nearly two years.

No confirmation of the Dobyns report was obtainable at the office of Senator McCormick, who will have the selection of the new district attorney. It is known, however, that the senator and Mr. Dobyns have been closely associated personally and politically for years. Mr. Dobyns was an assistant district attorney under the last Republican administration. Nearly a year ago he declined an appointment as undersecretary of state proffered by President Wilson when Frank Polk retired from that office.

ALDERMEN RAISE
THEATERS' FEES
AND RAP PRICES

Law Proposed Is Blow
at Scalpers.

Two blows at the prices of theater tickets were struck at yesterday's meeting of the city council. The aldermen also boosted theater license fees from 25 to 50 per cent.

On motion of Ald. Kostner, the revenue committee was directed to prepare a bill for the state legislature providing that "all tickets of admission to places of amusement be offered for sale and be sold only at such places of amusement and for the advertised price only," and providing further that "the buying and selling of tickets as a business or occupation be prohibited under penalty of a misdemeanor."

On motion of the same alderman the judiciary committee was directed to prepare a bill prohibiting theaters from raising their prices for Sunday, Saturday, or holiday performances, under penalty of a fine of $500 for the first offense and a similar fine and six months' imprisonment for the second.

Attacks Scalpers. When Ald. Cermak called up the ordinance providing for a sliding scale of theater license fees running from $200 to $3,200, according to seating capacity and admission charge, Ald. Kostner tried to have the anti-scalping provision of his resolution incorporated in the ordinance.

"At present when you want a seat within ten rows of the stage you are told at the box offices that they are sold out," Ald. Kostner said. "You are therefore forced to go to a scalper for them. My plan would prevent that. All tickets would have to be sold at the box office."

Ald. Cermak, Schwartz, and others opposed the Kostner suggestion on the ground the plan had been declared illegal by the city law board. Ald. Kostner replied that his resolution incorporated in the ordinance.

At present when you want a seat within ten rows of the stage you are told at the box offices that they are sold out," Ald. Kostner said. "You are therefore forced to go to a scalper for them. My plan would prevent that. All tickets would have to be sold at the box office."

Ald. Cermak, Schwartz, and others opposed the Kostner suggestion on the ground the plan had been declared illegal by the city law board. Ald. Kostner replied that his resolution incorporated in the ordinance.

WOMEN ARE CARRIED DOWN LADDERS FROM
$10,000 HOTEL FIRE

Thrilling rescues and judicious scenes marked a fire which yesterday afternoon threatened to destroy the Hotel Rice, Chicago avenue and Dearborn street. Nearly 200 guests were in the hotel at the time the fire started, and all were driven to the street.

On motion of the same alderman the judiciary committee was directed to prepare a bill prohibiting theaters from raising their prices for Sunday, Saturday, or holiday performances, under penalty of a fine of $500 for the first offense and a similar fine and six months' imprisonment for the second.

Attacks Scalpers. When Ald. Cermak called up the ordinance providing for a sliding scale of theater license fees running from $200 to $3,200, according to seating capacity and admission charge, Ald. Kostner tried to have the anti-scalping provision of his resolution incorporated in the ordinance.

NAME RECEIVER FOR ROAD WHICH
CAN'T PAY WAGES

to Dispute.

An outside hearing of differences between the railroad and the unions before the federal labor board in Chicago came yesterday in the appointment of a receiver for the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad. The action was taken in the federal court at Atlanta on the petition of a Birmingham bank, which alleged it held a note for $90,000, due March 7, which the road was unable to pay. The road agreed to the receivership.

The move was reflected in a break of two points in the road's stock on the New York exchange. Sales of only 2,800 shares served to depress the stock from a high for the day of 5 1/2 to a low and closing quotation of 4. The net loss was two full points.

Wage Cut Refused. The receivership proceedings were a sequel to the announcement of the company Jan. 1 last that wages would be reduced on Feb. 1, followed by a protest of employees that went before the labor board, and refusal of the board to assume jurisdiction over the wage dispute.

In its petition the Birmingham bank said that $9,000 per mile per year it was losing on the road's gross receipts were $100,000 per month and that its only salvation was for the court to take charge.

Blames U. S. Boards. Counsel for the company admitted the road was operating at a loss and that with the railroad commission fixing the rates and the railroad board fixing wages it was unable to meet expenses and, in the interests of all parties concerned, a receivership was desirable.

This is the second time the road has been in the hands of the court. It was under a receivership from 1909 until 1916. In 1916 it made money, it was stated, and was taken out of the hands of the receiver. Federal control followed in 1917.

City, with Deficit, Scorns
Phone Check of $476,726

Though the 1920 city deficit and floating indebtedness amount to nearly $8,000,000, the city yesterday turned down a check from the Illinois Bell Telephone company for $476,726, representing the semi-annual franchise payment. This sum brings the total payments from the telephone and traction companies which the city has refused to accept up to nearly $2,000,000. City Controller Harding's position is that if the payments are accepted the city will acquiesce in the various increases in rates and fares allowed by the former public utilities commission.

Girl Prefers Detention
Home to Grandparents

Eleanor Ernst, 15 years old, of 3016 Edgewood avenue, chose to go to the Juvenile Detention home last night rather than return to the grandparents who have adopted her, Mr. and Mrs. John Ernst. She disappeared two days ago and was located yesterday in a loop office.

"I will not return to my grandmothers," she said. "She hasn't given me a square deal."

Mrs. Ernst left the detective bureau weeping.

Chief of Police Fitzmorris said yesterday that the city law board. Ald. Kostner replied that his resolution incorporated in the ordinance.

SHOTGUN POSSE HUNTS MAN WHO
MENACED WOMAN

Victim Faints as Negro
Brandishes Knife.

Armed with shotguns and revolvers more than fifty citizens aided the Grand Crossing police last night in a search for a colored man who had attacked and robbed Mrs. Arthur Linville, 26 years old, 5451 South Ashland avenue. No trace of him was obtained. The attack was committed in East Seventy-second street, between South Wabash avenue and South State street, where these similar attacks have been committed within the last year. Mrs. Linville was walking to the home of Mrs. James Casperson, 7238 South Wabash avenue.

Brandishes a Knife. The colored man jumped out from behind a clump of bushes, seized her and brandished a knife. He said, "I'll twist it around in your heart if you scream." She fainted.

The colored man was standing beside her when she regained consciousness. He had taken her watch and a $150 diamond ring. He told her he would wait while she went to her home and got $25, and that if she did not return within thirty minutes he would tell her husband.

Collapses on Friend's Porch. Mrs. Linville made her way to Mrs. Casperson's home, where she collapsed on the front porch. After she had been revived and had told her story, the Grand Crossing police were notified. She fainted three times while talking to the police.

She was removed in the police ambulance to her home, where she is under the care of a physician.

POLICE TO FIGHT WITH GAS BOMBS,
SHIELDS, 'TANKS'

Formaldehyde gas bombs, armored patrol wagons in which prisoners will be as safe as when locked in a cell, and steel shields behind which policemen may advance on barricaded bandits are among the innovations which Chief of Police Fitzmorris is about to introduce.

"It has been my pet worry that a small band of criminals barricaded in a building with rifles would be able to stand off the entire police department," said the chief in explaining the need of the gas bomb and shield.

The bomb is composed of potassium permanganate inclosed in a glass capsule the size of a marble and surrounded by small chunks of steel which are held in place by a tin can or a wire netting. It was perfected by Dr. F. O. Tunney, director of the health department.

Equipped with bombs, policemen will advance behind the V-shaped steel shields now being constructed under orders of the chief, and hurl the grenades through the windows of the robbers' fortress. The chunks of steel are intended to break the glass capsule, permitting the potassium permanganate to unite with the formaldehyde gas, forming a formaldehyde gas.

"When one of the bombs was set off on the roof of the city hall persons within ten feet of it were in danger of asphyxiation in spite of a high wind blowing at the time," Chief Fitzmorris said. "The chief thinks of steel as rushing to the open air in a hurry."

The six armored patrol wagons which the chief intends to ask the finance committee to purchase will be automatic cells. Only two policemen, a chauffeur and a guard, will be assigned to them instead of three policemen, as on the wagons now in use. Prisoners will be locked inside the wagons so that both policemen may ride on the driver's seat.

TATRO CALLED TO WASHINGTON
ON DRY RUMPUS

Joseph Tatro, special agent for the department of internal revenue, was called to Washington yesterday in connection with the sensational charges he made earlier in the week against Prohibition Director Frank D. Richardson's handling of the office. It was announced that Mr. Tatro's departure has not stopped the investigation of the charges. Mr. Richardson, who announced in Washington that a suspension order had been issued against Tatro, is expected back Monday.

"The best thing for Richardson, to do is to lie damn low. Yes, go ahead and quote me for that."

Chief of Police Fitzmorris thus replied enigmatically yesterday to statements made in Washington by Director Richardson that the police here have refused to cooperate with the government in enforcing prohibition.

Asked to elaborate, the chief again spoke in riddles: "People who live in glass houses should pull down the blinds."

"I have offered Richardson every cooperation," he added. "I even offered to assign men to him. Never once did he accept my offer. I am convinced he does not want any cooperation."

Chief Shuts Up "Little Bohemia" Killing Scene

Investigating the killing of Timothy W. Mulvihill, a former policeman, in the Little Bohemia cafe at 1723 South Loomis street, Chief Fitzmorris discovered yesterday that since Jan. 1 the cafe has been operating without a license.

He immediately sent out an order closing the cafe and announced it is "closed for good."

Five men are being held in connection with the killing. They are Frank Lake, one of the owners, who admits he shot Mulvihill; Herbert Long, bartender; Frank Kabbalo, also bartender; George Deussen, and James Keene, Druggan's brother Terry is the other owner. The police are looking for him.

EXPORT BUYING REVIVES; GRAIN PRICES RISE

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

With a reversal in the character of most of the news and sentiment, especially in wheat, the action of grain prices yesterday was different from early expectations. For an hour the markets showed little strength, but after 10:30 a. m. values hardened and started a general covering and buying movement. Prices advanced as rapidly as they had previously declined and the close was at the best prices.

Not gains were small, but encouraged holders and those favorable to the constructive side who look for a big crop year in wheat. At the finish wheat was up 1/2 cent, oats 1/4 cent, and barley unchanged to 1/4 cent lower, and rye 1/4 cent.

Export Buying Revives.
An unexpected revival in the export buying of wheat, with 1,400,000 bu bought by four leading countries at the seaboard and Gulf, combined with reports of 80,000 bush sold for export, and the late advance in Kansas City, where exporters took the offerings of cash and futures and cleaned up the market, were instrumental in making the early drop.

They brought buying orders of all kinds and, together with the higher temperatures in the southwest, where high winds were said to be damaging the wheat crop, the references to the Russian fleet in Missouri by the Modern Miller, and reports of green bugs being active in Texas and Oklahoma, were responsible for the advance of 1/2 cent at the top, although net gains were small.

All the big commission houses on the buying side, especially those with seaboard connections, were selling very general, especially by local operators who were against the market. It was what one large operator called "a poor case of selling."

Against the advance was the report that Germany had bought 2,000,000 bu wheat in Argentina at 16¢200 under what Minneapolis had the lightest receipts of the season. 27 cars, and millers there bought wheat in Kansas City and Omaha. India had no rain and Australia had too much. At the top March was 11 1/2¢ and May 11 1/4¢.

Corn Bears Are Roused.
Early over-selling in corn was the undoing of the bear element, as values started up when wheat became strong and the drop of 1/4 cent in March, which had recovered, the finish being at almost the top, 70¢700. Houses active on the selling side the previous day were at it again, while the buyers were content. The price of corn was 1,470,000 bu, while the day's arrivals were 412 cars.

Oats advanced more than 1¢ from the early low point and moved firm in sympathy with corn. Commission houses were free sellers early and buyers later. Seeding is progressing in the southwest. Rye was a regular seller, and a heavy bid undercurrent, especially for July. Export bids were 1¢ out of line. July was under pressure and closed lower. Spot barley was 20¢1/2 lower.

Provisions Were Offered Sparingly and, with fair buying at the last by commission houses, prices advanced and closed with gains of 1/4 cent to 1/2 cent. Beef, lamb and ribs. Cash offerings and trading were moderate. Prices follow:

FROM Spalding, Mich., comes a photograph for THE TRIBUNE'S $20,200 beauty contest, and a letter which claims that while Spalding may be the smallest town represented in the contest, it has the largest number of beautiful girls, per capita, of any town in the central west.

In Effingham, Ill., the contest is being conducted under the auspices of the Effingham chamber of commerce. Twenty girls from Effingham will be selected by ballot, and these will represent their community in the big beauty quest.

In Hartford, Wis., a local beauty contest is also being conducted for the purpose of picking the most beautiful girl in that community for entrance in the central west search.

Throughout the section interest in the hunt has reached a high pitch. There are to be sixty prize winners in THE TRIBUNE'S contest, and the sum of $20,200 will be distributed for the purpose of finding the most beautiful girl in the five states.

Ten thousand dollars will be awarded to the most beautiful girl of all when she is found. In addition ten prizes will be distributed in each of the six territorial divisions—the city of Chicago, the state of Illinois outside of Chicago, the state of Indiana, the state of Iowa, the state of Wisconsin, and the state of Michigan.

The first prize in each of these divisions will be $1,000, the second $500, the third $100, and the remaining seven $50 each.

The grand prize winner will receive not only $10,000 in cash, but also one of the sixty territorial prizes.

The contest is open to every girl, unmarried or a widow, who resides anywhere in the five states, except professional beauties.

Select a photograph of yourself or some girl friend and write plainly on the back of it the name, street address, and occupation of the entrant.

Send the photograph to "Beauty Contest," CHICAGO TRIBUNE, 7 South Dearborn street, Chicago.

Photographs will be published in THE TRIBUNE daily and in the rotogravure section on Sunday until the close of the contest.

The contest closes April 9.

Photographs will not be returned unless accompanied by a stamped and self-addressed envelope of proper size.

Perhaps the prize winners have not yet sent in their photographs.

You may know girls whom the Art Institute judges would pick as the best among whom the $20,200 will be distributed.

DENBY HEAD
NAVY; T. R.
HIS ASSIST

Harding Officially Names New

BY PHILIP KINSLEY
St. Augustine, Fla., Feb. 25.—After an hour's talk in his pleasant sun room over the hotel gardens, President Harding turned over the duties of the United States navy to Denby of Detroit as secretary of the navy.

At the same time he announced general policy, echoed a few days later by Mr. Denby, that the program would be maintaining the navy as it was, but with a new management.

In this appointment Mr. Denby was the fifth member of a family named Denby, known as a national figure, a line of being one of the most dignified in the new government, a dignity which Mr. Denby's biggest stroke of political good fortune had imagined as possible all who came in contact with him.

Mr. Denby is a man of some physical build as his tall, heavy, well proportioned head is bald and his features marked resemblance to those of his father, a man of massive, rugged build and a head that through it all kindliness.

He comes to his place of duty at the highest point of experience in the navy. He has the end viewpoint. This will be seen more as his policies, now thought of, develop.

There was no formality in the scene in the conference room. Mr. Harding stood beside the open window looking at the men to trust.

Names today's names have nominated Mr. Denby secretary of the navy and accepted. I would like to have wanted to take advantage of the services of Theodore Roosevelt's first assistant, Mr. Denby, with me cordially on the Roosevelt has accepted the post.

Mr. Denby confirmed all this later that he was "pleased" to have Col. Roosevelt second in command.

Mr. Harding referred to naval policy which he had Senator Lodge. He said: "I have said to several senators and house committee affairs that it would be unwise to enter into some disarmament with other Mr. Denby, asked for a statement of his policy, said that he had no policy."

Denby's Idea of Denby would like to say, "my conception of the duty of the navy is to act as navy adviser to the cabinet and, secondly, and more important, to advise the president in whatever naval policy he may wish to pursue. It is a battle at an infant's notion."

As to disarmament, the president, types or any of the problems, Mr. Denby said he would wait to study and go in with a knowledge of and a great love for the navy. One of the first regrets he expressed was that he had given up his present position as a naval officer for the navy.

Cheered Fighting Mr. Denby, kindly, and knowing the history of human nature, a position which was given to him by the navy, it was a talk to new recruits, telling that that war meant, its sacrifices, all that the navy solved, injecting into them of the corps."

He was sent abroad on observation officer and was for a brief time. His experience, in a distinct way, the heroic part the navy played in France. It is a navy direct credit to two of the American Legion, for the Legion button today, and Col. Roosevelt the organizers.

New Secretary Reminded "Do you want to know what I think of this?" Mr. Denby asked.
